Boris needs his friends!

Last weekend's two First Holy Communion Masses were splendid and joyful occasions. I am indebted to the team of catechists: Margaret Borman, Amanda Duckett, Linda Goddard, Sian Spencer and Monica who generously gave of their time to lead the children through our teaching and planning sessions. We were very well supported throughout by the staff of our schools, and by the parents and carers who made sure that our sessions were very well attended. A good number of parishioners attended the Masses in order to assist with organising and cleaning which was great to see. I feel that the occasion established a more firm bridge of connection between the schools and the parish and we will certainly build on this in the coming year when hopefully we'll have more freedom to engage with the schools.
